Re:

Dear :

After almost fifty (50) years of practice, I am retiring from the practice of law. After December 31, 2021 I will no longer accept new legal matters. It has been both my pleasure and my honor to have served the people of Dare County and Northeastern North Carolina.

Although the current firm of Kellogg & Evans, P.A. will wind down when I retire, I am pleased to announce that I will become "of counsel" with the firm of Malarney & McCown, PLLC, also located in Manteo. This will bring together the two oldest Law firms established here on the Outer Banks. I hope that you will think of using Jeff Malarney and Linda McCown if you need legal assistance in the future.

If I am currently representing you in a matter, I intend to conclude your representation before my retirement becomes final or Malarney & McCown will be available to assist you. You also have the option of selecting a new attorney. We will work with you to ensure a smooth transition to a new attorney or firm if you so choose.

It has been our policy in accordance with North Carolina State Bar rules to keep client files for a period of six years. Mr. Malarney and Ms. McCown will continue to store your file for the remainder of the six-year period. After that time, it will be destroyed. If this is not acceptable, you must let me know by January 31, 2022 that you do not want me to follow the customary procedure with your file.

Please contact me if you have any questions. Thank you again for allowing me to represent you in your legal matters.

With kind regards, I am,

Sincerely,

Charles D. Evans
Attorney at Law
